

venue: Stary Klasztor, ul. Jana Ewangelisty Purkyniego 1
date: 20 March (Wednesday) 2024, 21:00
duration: approximately 75 min
tickets: 60 zł

Musicians

Ryszard Tymon Tymański, Piotr Pawlak, Jacek Prościński, Szymon Burnos, Olaf Deriglasoff, Jerzy Mazzoll

PPA production: Roksana Mazur

Kury - in English, The Hens - are alive and still laying golden eggs of mockery. Founded by Ryszard Tymański (aka Tymon) thirty-two years and nine months ago, the band has issued five albums. But let's face it, the one and only "P.O.L.O.V.I.R.U.S." has defined their legendary status - hello, Wrocław, how do you like it! - a monumental album, to quote the official promotional material for the recent reissue, and please don't erase it, "that fucked up the lives of a generation of forty-somethings".

That is not true, of course. "P.O.L.O.V.I.R.U.S." could not have ruined anyone's life because, as the Book says, laughing is healthy, even through tears, and is a recipe for a successful existence on Earth.

The old Hens were a yass and cabaret act worthy of sincere laughter. The new Hens - as the reissue of the famous album on orange double vinyl and audiophile cassette tape accompanies the reactivation of the band and a tour (interruptus) - is now a cabaret-yass band, performing with a line-up close to the original. Its undisputed frontman is Tymon, constantly making jokes about jazz, reggae, rock, metal, shanties and every music in the world, as befits a chicken-house boss.

@kury #kury #reaktywackury #kury2024 #zespolmuzycznykury
#reaktywaczespolumuzycznykury #ppakury2024

fot. Krzysztof Salwarowski